My girlfriend Katie is several years younger than me, but we've got a lot in common. How would I describe her? Well, first of all, she's really friendly - she has loads of friends, way more than me. She always likes to have lots of fun and hang out with her friends, chatting and going to the shops. She's a bit of a party animal to be honest.

She works as a teacher in a local primary school, the same one that I work at. That's how we met. All the kids say she's very kind and caring, and she always listens to them. She's also extremely hard-working - she often brings work home in the evening and stays up late marking the children's work - but she can be so disorganized. There's always paper and books all over her desk and sometimes she can't find things. She can be a bit bossy too. I guess teachers have to be, but she often tries to tell me what to do as well. It's not too bad though, as long as I'm patient with her.
